LOVES ME / LOVES ME NOT

In this time of ours, love is something we talk and write about a lot.
Love is celebrated, or yearned for in literature.
Love is discussed from the psychological aspect.
Love is interpreted from the historical point of view.
And from the religious. Sociological. Moral. Aesthetic...

But what happens when words, both written and said, become silent?

LOVES ME / LOVES ME NOT is a non-verbal attempt to answer the question – what does love mean to each of us?

The project is inspired by the game of picking off flower petals – the first petal ...
LOVES ME, the second petal ... LOVES ME NOT, the third petal LOVES ME, the fourth petal ... LOVES ME NOT, and so on in order to “discover” whether a person we care for loves us or loves us not.

Each artist, participant in the project, is supposed to demonstrate what s/he feels love is and is not by using by means of art (all techniques are allowed).
